At Meeting Held in Senate Chamber and Par-

Prominent Episcopal Minister Argues Against Bill's Passage—P.
A. Baker Led Fight for Bill.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 23.—In all of the history of contention for and against temperance legislation in this state, there never was a more formidable array presented against a restrictive bill than in the Ohio senate last night. From a desk piled high with petitions, those who are opposed to the passage of the county option bill presented their remonstrances to the committee on temperance, assembled in the presence of an audience that taxed every available bit of space in the chamber. Equally formidable was the front presented by the friends of the measure, headed, as they were, by the National Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in the person of Rev. P. A. Baker.

The crowd itself was intensely partisan and time and again the chamber resounded with the cheers and applause of the divided forces. It was a night of plain speaking, too. Things were called by their proper names. As each orator took the rostrum and finished his remarks, the feeling grew higher and higher, until at last, when the debate was to close, with Rev. Baker as the final champion of the bill, confusion arose and the meeting ended in an uproar, with both sides clamoring to be heard and denouncing the other as unfair and unjust. It was to quiet this unseemly scene that the chairman, Senator John C. Drake of Erie, brought down his gavel and declared the meeting adjourned.

The incident that caused the incident was the challenge of the figures produced by Judge John Schwaab of Cincinnati, concerning the arrests for drunkenness in Portland, Maine, by Rev. Baker, who denied that any of those who had quoted that prohibition state had ever been there to see the actual conditions. Judge Schwaab replied with asperity that he relied upon the state reports, and demanded to know if they were reliable.

Rev. Baker replied that some were and some were not. The speaker continued his remarks until calls came from the crowd that his time was up. Then there was a hasty conference of the committee, and the chairman repeated his decision, explaining that the speaker had really exceeded his time limit. Immediate. (Continued on Page 8, 4th Col.)

MR. ASHBROOK WANTS MOTTO ON THE COINS

Introduces Bill in the House of Representatives to That Effect Which Is Referred to Committee.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Congressman W. A. Ashbrook of the 17th Ohio district, introduced the following bill, which was referred to the committee on coinage, weights and measures and ordered to be printed:

A BILL
Requiring the motto "In God We Trust" to be restored to certain coins.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the motto "In God We Trust" be restored to all coins of money from which it has been removed, and that all such money which may be hereafter coined shall bear this motto.

STEAMERS COLLIDE MANY ARE MISSING

Rotterdam, Jan. 23.—The steamer Amsterdam, belonging to the Great Eastern Railway company, and the British steamer Akminster, from New York, December 30, for Rotterdam, collided near Nievre Waterweg. The Amsterdam was badly damaged and proceeded to Maasuis, where she beached. The Akminster was coming from Harwich and had 56 passengers on board. One boat and many passengers are missing.

SENSATION

CAUSED BY TESTIMONY THAT

Against Stanford White Which Was Made Before the Roof Garden Tragedy.

New York, Jan. 23.—The startling statement that Harry Thaw had once appealed to District Attorney Jerome to have Stanford White brought to justice, was the sensational feature of today's developments in the trial of Thaw. Thaw's appeal was turned down by the Prosecutor, who believed that it was actuated by the young Pittsburgh spendthrift's jealousy of his enemy's success with Evelyn Nesbit. The testimony was incidental to that of Dr. Chas. C. Wagner, an insanity expert for the defense. The fact was also emphasized that almost from his first meeting with White, and before any feud sprang up between them, Thaw cherished an overruling hatred and loathing for the man he later killed. The doctor proved a good witness for the defense.

CHILDREN MUST ATTEND SCHOOL

At Least Twenty-Eight Weeks Each Year Until They Are Sixteen Years of Age.

Columbus, Jan. 23.—A bill of much importance passed the House Wednesday, but was badly mutilated in the process. It was the one by Mr. Reynolds of Cuyahoga relating to compulsory education. It requires that all children between the ages of 8 and 14 must have at least 28 weeks of schooling each year.

The parents or guardian are made subject to fine or imprisonment for non-compliance. Certificates are to be issued by the proper authorities showing that a child has attended school as required, and no child under 14 may be employed in any workshop or factory, and none between 14 and 16 years of age may be employed unless he shall have a certificate to the effect that he has attended school and received the required training.

The law is really another child labor measure, and it was contested. But it passed, although Mr. Lybarger, of Coshocton offered and put through an amendment, which, according to the author of the measure, "takes all the meat out of it."

Millersburg, O., Jan. 23.—The much looked forward to sensation of the Ben Dickerson trial failed to materialize this morning, when Tom McCoy, the state's star witness, took the stand to give direct testimony concerning the defendant with the murder of Katherine Hughes. There had been rumors, circulating that Mr. McCoy's train would be blown up before reaching Millersburg, and there were still other reports that he would meet with personal violence before he would be allowed to testify. These rumors, however, were without foundation, as the witness' testimony is before the jury. Leaders of Proposed Parade At-

Chicago, Jan. 23.—By noon today, Police Chief Shippy had 700 extra policemen mobilized within the "loop district," the business heart of Chicago, in readiness to swing the entire force, if necessary, into Grant Park on the Lake Front, to put a quietus on the proposed parade of 50,000 unemployed to the City Hall to petition for work. During the morning the parade committee of the socialists' party tried to call off the affair, but by that time it had got away from them. People began to gather along the Lake Front as early as 10 o'clock. Chief Shippy's men this afternoon refused to allow more than two people to walk together along the Lake Front. The orders were to search every suspicious character for firearms. Mounted patrolmen paraded the avenue, preventing any blockade of vehicles, and keeping every one on the move. Half a dozen patrol wagons with horses in harness, were held in readiness for instant use, and two fire steamers were kept ready to throw water on the crowds, if the efforts of the police to prevent them from gathering, should prove unavailing.

Brooklyn, Jan. 23.—Five men were buried today by the collapse of the Abemarle Hotel, opposite Dreamland Park, at Coney Island. It is not known if any of the men are alive, but rescuers are exerting every effort to get them.

WARREN HARDING, FORAKER LEADER IN OHIO SURRENDERS TO TAFT AND SAYS SENATOR IS "LICKED"

Maion, O., Jan. 23.—Warren G. Harding, editor of the Marion Daily Star and pre-eminent the Foraker leader of Ohio, has given up the fight against Taft. He has admitted that Foraker is "licked." That, the worst word he uses. Furthermore, he says that the Foraker leadership is at an end; that the people have spoken and that there is no doubt but that Taft is their preference. He deplores the bad judgment of the people and says that he is not climbing into any band wagon. He says further, that he still believes in Foraker and that his admirations for his qualities of statesmanship have not been diminished one jot nor tittle. But he does not subscribe to Senator Foraker's ability as a politician. Mr. Harding insists that there will be no Foraker faction in Ohio politics hereafter, but adds that there is bound always to be factionalism.

All of these sentiments are expressed in the leading editorial in Mr. Harding's paper Wednesday evening. The editorial in full, has caused widespread comment here and has been telegraphed all over the country.

FIRST CLASSMEN AT WEST POINT ARE TO BE MADE ARMY OFFICERS BEFORE THE REGULAR EXAMINATION

Washington, Jan. 23.—Under instructions from President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Taft Wednesday issued orders for the meeting of a board of officers immediately in West Point to examine the first class in the United Military academy, so that all those who are qualified may immediately become officers in the army without waiting for regular period of graduation.

This order follows out the general plan of the government to make war preparations in time of peace. There has never been a period since the Civil war when there was such activity in the army and in the navy. Powder mills belonging to the

LOST KEY RING CAUSES A FALSE IDENTIFICATION

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 23.—A key ring lost in Columbus, O., ten years ago, was responsible for the false identification of the body of an unknown man, recovered from Pittsburg harbor as W. H. S. Hamilton, an accountant, formerly of Columbus.

Yesterday morning Hamilton, who is employed here as an accountant, read of his mysterious death while coming downtown on a car. He dropped off at police headquarters to notify the authorities to guess again. "Twelve years ago, in Columbus, my father gave my brother and myself each a key ring, stamped with our names and addresses," explained Hamilton. "Ten years ago I lost mine. I haven't heard from it since." Then Hamilton identified the key ring. He viewed the body, but could not identify it. The man will be buried as an unknown.

MAKING TARIFF TREATY

Administration's Course Sharply Criticised by Republican Senators

In Giving to the World a Convention as Completed, Without Reference to the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Members of the senate showed clearly Wednesday that they regard with serious displeasure the new German tariff arrangement made by the administration last summer and are resolved to render it nugatory, if possible.

When the senate went into executive session late in the afternoon, a message from the president was received, and, on the assumption that it was the treaty itself, several Republicans, who did not approve it, started in to assail the administration on the ground that it had exceeded its prerogatives in granting certain concessions to the German empire.

The president's course not only in negotiating that instrument, but in proclaiming it to the world, as he did last July, was sharply criticised. It was declared that the agreement makes changes which are equivalent to legislation.

Stress was laid on the fact that the president had not only negotiated the treaty, but that he had given it out as a complete performance, without referring it to the senate for action. This the senators seemed to consider as especially reprehensible, and far beyond the authority of the executive.

It was pointed out that the German kaiser had not only referred the agreement to the reichstag for its action, but that he had even consulted both the local and national boards of trade. Hence the president was charged with being even more autocratic than the head of the German empire. It was also declared that under the system of valuations provided for by the treaty, great injustice would be done to the United States.

New York, Jan. 23.—It developed today that Mary Roberts, generally known as Mrs. May Roberts Clark, who shot and killed Frank Brady in Macy's department store yesterday, had practiced shooting for three months and that her act was most deliberate. Her friends declare that she had expected Brady to marry her and his refusal drove her insane. A diary found in her trunk by the police, tells the story of her life and her love for Brady.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Frank J. Constantine, sent to the Joliet penitentiary for life for the murder of Mrs. Louise Gentry in Chicago, September 8, 1906, is at the point of death. Word was received from the prison Wednesday afternoon that his condition had taken a sudden change for the worse.

Constantine attempted to commit suicide last Thursday by jumping from the third tier of cells in the jail. His skull was fractured and his body crushed and bruised.

AGED WANDERER PITCHES CAMP UNDER TREE UNMINDFUL OF COLD AND SPENDS ENTIRE NIGHT THERE

People living along the Jackson-town road, about a quarter of a mile south of Mt. Calvary cemetery, saw a decidedly queer sight, not unusual during the summer months, but strange at this time of the year. An old man, seventy-two years of age, and giving his name as Finio, sleeping comfortably beside a big fire and under a big tree. Snow covered his "bed clothing," consisting of parts of blankets and carpets, and the howling and whistling of the wind didn't seem to bother the disciple of Morpheus in the least.

The old man pitched his camp, such as it was, late Wednesday afternoon, and after getting branches from the trees, built a roaring fire. Then he seated himself comfortably, lit his pipe, and talked with several people who attracted by the unusual sight, came over to question him. He was just a tramp, and as he huddled close to the fire, he said he was a homeless wanderer and was "just going—nowhere in particular." He also enlightened them to the extent that he came from nowhere in particular.

He was a pathetic specimen of the genus hobo, as he sat with a ragged but warm coat about his shoulders, and listened to the swish of the snowflakes as they struck the blaze. When bed time came he simply rolled up in his carpet and went to sleep, probably dreaming that he was holding

ROSAR-MASON STOCK CO.

The famous Rosar-Mason stock company makes its first appearance in Newark at the Auditorium all next week. With a repertoire of plays new to Newark theater goers, and five first class vaudeville features, the Auditorium will undoubtedly play to crowded houses all week. Monday night will be ladies' free night as has been the custom heretofore.

ORPHUM THEATER.

This week's offering at the Orphum is drawing crowded houses. Manager Baum is to be commended for the excellent list of attractions which he has secured to please his patrons. Wednesday evening both houses were crowded, the opening number being the overture offering of Miss Grace Miller, the musical director.

Harry Lakola, the sailor juggler, was at his best and his juggling stunts and chin balancing bordered on the impossibility, but in his capable hands were made to look easy. Deverne and Van, "The Girl Behind the Laugh" and the Dutchman, furnished about 150 laughs in 20 minutes. The team is a clever one, and the Dutch comedian is certainly "there with the goods."

Zanfretta and Mansfield have a clever turn which they call "The Crazy Messenger." It is a humorous sketch, and as its name implies, a little out of the ordinary. Ira Haynes is pleasing his many friends with the illustrated song, "Since Arrah Wanna Married Barney Carney." The song just fits his voice and he is making a great hit with it.

The top liners, Louis Chevalier and company, present the playlet, "A Lucky Liar." It is a scream from start to finish and the two young ladies who are assisting Mr. Chevalier are clever actresses. This act alone will keep you smiling half the night and is a sure cure for the blues. The moving pictures are up to the usual standard. If you want to while away an hour and a half in real pure enjoyment don't miss Manager Baum's treat this week.

MA'S NEW HUSBAND.
That merry, romping musical farce "Ma's New Husband" will be at the Auditorium tonight. From all accounts it is one of the big laughmakers of the season and Managers Scott & Raynor have been obliged to promise return dates in several cities in order to satisfy the popular demand. The company has been receiving glowing press notices for clever, rapid fire work and for the singing and comedy merit of the individual members.

FEDERAL PATRONAGE

Roosevelt Building Up Taft Machine Through Appointments.

IS AFTER OPPONENTS' HEADS

Senate Calls a Halt On President In His Bartering of Appointments For Taft Support—Hitchcock Takes Command.

Columbus, O.—(Special).—The action of Congress in Buton, who so suddenly changed his mind in regard to assuming the generalship of the Taft-boss forces in Cuyahoga county in sending workers to the anti-boss and anti-Taft rump conventions for the purpose of securing the names of all federal officeholders who participated in any way in either of these conventions, is most significant.

It seems not only in Ohio is this cry of bossism sweeping the voter from off his feet, but that in his effort to dictate his successor in the White House, Mr. Roosevelt, has been and is attempting to form an organization through federal patronage that is almost appalling.

It was admitted by the Burton men that these names were to be submitted to Mr. Roosevelt, and that he would see to it that their heads would come off.

M. G. Norton, appraiser of merchandise, and Marshal Chandler are cited as being against the Cuyahoga county bosses, and no stone will be left unturned to aid Mr. Burton in the removal of both these men and other federal appointees.

A Deplorable Condition.
In a most able editorial, the Springfield Daily News has taken up the question of federal patronage. It has this to say regarding it:

"The regular quadrennial charge that the president is using the patronage of the government to promote personal politics is forthcoming. This time, the president not being a candidate himself, is said to be using federal patronage in the interest of his choice, Secretary Taft. There is nothing new or strange about this charge."

"That is one of the worst features about our form of government—the patronage. Much has been done in the way of civil service rules, to lessen the evil, but it is likely to be a thousand years before we shall see an end of the disgrace—for it is nothing else but a disgrace that the office of the government should be peddled out to promote any man's personal ambition."

"But there have been few presidents who did not so use the patronage of the government. Great man that he was, and good one, Mr. Lincoln did the same thing. When he could not secure the vote of a senator in any other way, he used the government patronage to bring him around and it usually worked. In Mr. Lincoln's case the ends seemed to justify the means. He never used the patronage of the government for his own selfish purposes, but he did use it to secure votes for the passage of such bills as he believed were in the interest of the country."

"In the case of Mr. Roosevelt it is a little different. The charge against him is that he is using public office to enhance the chances of a candidate for president. Whether the charges are true, we do not know. It would be strange if they were not true. In one sense, even if Mr. Roosevelt should not be aware of the result of his appointments. In fact, it would be almost impossible for him to make appointments to office that would not assist his candidate."

"For instance, two men apply for the position of postmaster. One of them is a friend of Taft's; perhaps he is a friend of the president and favors Taft because he knows the president favors Taft. The other candidate is not especially friendly to the Taft candidacy. In the light of human nature, which man is the most likely to be appointed? And after he is appointed is it reasonable to expect him to sit on the fence and see those who had him appointed suffer because he himself is not willing to say a few words, or turn a few political tricks? Hitchcock Comes In Handy."

"Then, there is the first assistant postmaster general—a splendid gentleman. Mr. Hitchcock is a young man of intelligence and integrity. But he owes his position to Mr. Roosevelt, of course. He has the appointment of thousands and thousands of postmasters at the lesser offices. Is it reasonable to expect Mr. Hitchcock to select applicants who are for some other candidate than Mr. Taft? Or, is it not reasonable to suppose that practically every one of the postmasters who want to be appointed, knowing how Mr. Hitchcock feels about the candidacy of Taft, is going to let it be known that he favors Mr. Taft? There are nearly 70,000 of those postmasters scattered all over the country, and the chances are that nearly every one who hopes to be reappointed is for Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Roosevelt's candidate, and that he is going to let the appointing officer, the first assistant postmaster general know who he is for."

"But the evil should be corrected as far as possible. The people of this country want efficient officers to serve them and they ought not to care who an officer is for or against. A postmaster ought to have his own opinions as to who is the proper man for president, and his opinions ought not to be based upon the pay envelope. There is no difference between bribing a man with a postoffice and buying him any other way. Any man who sells his influence for the sake of a public office is not an honest man, and any man, however high up he may be in public affairs, who uses the federal patronage to promote his own selfish ends, is not the kind of a man to have high up in public affairs."

NOTE.—Mr. Hitchcock has been put in charge of the Taft campaign in the South.

The Uhrichsville Evening Chronicle deals with the same subject in this manner:

"A patronage bought nomination, if successful at the polls, means that its owner has mortgaged all the offices in his control to the bosses, the political fakery and the office brokers with whom he made his deals, or with whom his managers made deals for him. A nomination gained in this way can not help the cause of good government. No sophistry can wipe out this eternal truth: An office bought with patronage is as corruptly gained as an office bought with money. The man who thinks otherwise is blind and deaf and dumb to the facts that speak for themselves."

Federal patronage is referred to in connection with the Taft boom by the Zanesville Signal in citing the fact that many of the Republican workers of Muskingum county are unwilling to stand out for Foraker because of their belief that Taft will be the man to "shake the plum tree," and further says that these organization men "can not keep their eyes off the leaves and fishes."

The Tie That Binds.
From the county committeeman to his political boss; from the county political boss to the big city boss; from the big city boss to Mr. Taft, and from Mr. Taft to Roosevelt—this chain of federal patronage and domination rule is connected up in a short editorial in the New York Post, which says:

"When it was rumored last week that the president would appoint George W. Wamamaker appraiser in this city, a Taft organ had a Washington dispatch stating that 'his selection is looked on as intended to assist the Taft movement in New York.' One sees how. Here is a long-time district leader, who has stood by President Parsons in opposing the endorsement of Hughes. He gets a fat office. The inference is clear. If you want federal favor, work for Taft. We have heard from business men grave doubts about the capacity of Mr. Wamamaker to fill the office. They speak of his appointment as precisely on the level of the old Barney Biglin kind. Without urging this, we have in this choice of an appraiser a confessed proof of the intention of the president to use the offices to help along the Taft boom. As for Mr. Wamamaker's methods as a Republican leader, we have the following in the last number of Good Government: 'In an article on "Reciprocity of Patronage," George Washington Plunkitt has the following to say about Mr. Wamamaker: 'On election day I try to pile up as big a majority as I can against George Wamamaker, the Republican leader of the Fifteenth. Any other day, George and I are the best of friends. I can go to him and say, "George, I want you to place this friend of mine." He says, "All right, Senator," or vice versa.'"

Bartering For Support.
While Taft people claim that the war secretary will have the endorsement of the greater majority of federal appointees, and through Frank Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general, of the larger number of postmasters throughout the nation, and the support of many of the domineering bosses in Ohio, it is a recognized fact, through the action of the senate, Tuesday, that the elective official family of the nation is most unfavorable toward the president's attempt to dictate his successor, a dictation which is looked upon as bordering upon the method of king-ruled countries, where the oldest in the family falls heir to the throne.

In a brief statement made by Senator Foraker in Washington on Tuesday following the action of the senate in defeating the nomination of four Ohio postmasters who had been counted upon by the president as most beneficial for Mr. Taft, he said: "There will be no more prostitution of federal patronage in order to carry out political bargains without its being emphatically resented; there will be just as many rejections of this kind as there have been bargains; how many have been made I am not prepared to say, but there is quite a number of them."

In this the Republicans of Ohio and the nation recognized the attempt of upbuilding a federal machine along similar lines as those being followed by Buckeye state bosses.

The senate was unanimous in throwing down this attempt on the part of the president, and so important was the action considered that even the Ohio State Journal was forced to give it prominence on its first page the following day. This was rather humorous in the light of the fact that the ownership of the paper is as closely allied with Boss Karshner as is the Commercial Tribune and George B. Cox.

WILL ENJOIN PRIMARIES.
Columbus, O.—(Special).—That there will be no primaries held in Ohio on Feb. 11, according to Boss Brown's plans, is the rumor which is being waived to Taft headquarters. The taxpayers are uprising all over the state against the $250,000 cost, and even the subversive county committees are unable to stem the tide. It is said that injunctions will be brought in every county where primaries are to be held.

C. E. Walton, 129 Valendingham street, Newark, O., says: "A few years ago I gave a statement setting forth the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills and at the present time, I gladly confirm that testimonial. Prior to using this remedy my kidneys were inactive for a number of years and caused dull pains across the small of my back which often changed to sharp twinges. Remember This Recipe For Cold and Cough Cure

Simple as it is, there is nothing better for colds and stubborn coughs. Tastes pleasant, too, and can be made at home at small cost.

Granulated Sugar Syrup, 13½ oz. Pinex 2½ oz.

The 2½ oz. of Pinex will cost you 50 cents at any drug store. Put the Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours, as required. The pint is enough to last a family a long time. Well corked, it keeps indefinitely.

Pinex is the most concentrated form of Norway white pine extract. It is rich in all the elements that have made the Norwegian pine forests famous in curing consumption and other membrane diseases.

In making up this prescription, do not expect good results unless you use Pinex. It may be that some druggists do not have it, but they can get it for you easily if requested to do so.

London Jan. 23.—George Meredith, 80 years old. But at that time he was celebrating the occasion as it was known only to a small group of friends, and he never general would have been better still if he had realized his existence in the literary world had rendered his home to Mr. Meredith not now, but 70 years ago.

going through the orchard he picked so warm that he had to remove his

WON'T REDUCE WAGES

New York Builders Renew Old Agreements.

ARBITRATION A SUCCESS.

Plan Has Proved So Effective In Preventing Strikes That Both Employers and Unions Desires Its Continuance.
Outlook For Work Dull.

According to a statement issued on behalf of the Building Trades Employers' association of New York city, the wages of workers in the building trades will not be cut. The employers say that although the prospects are the worst in five years they have decided not to reduce wages and that the differences with unions which have failed to come to a new agreement are only over working conditions. No strikes are desired on either side. It is said, it being admitted on the part of the unions that already there are more idle building mechanics than in several seasons. The statement goes on:

"The unions which have made agreements are satisfied to have the old wages, which are the highest ever paid to building mechanics, continued, and they are now hoping that with the new year matters will improve in the building industry, so that more of their members will be able to have work at these wages. The outlook at present, however, is very bad. The prospects now are for a poor building year, and like the mechanics, the employers can only hope that the present stagnation will not last long. The arbitration agreement has been so effective in preserving peace in the building industry that the employers have decided in the meantime not to reduce wages, wishing for a continuance of the harmony between them and the men which has hitherto prevailed. It has reduced strikes to a minimum, and it is the general sentiment on both sides that it should continue as a permanent institution.

The trade agreements with the employers under the arbitration plan are made on the understanding that the same conditions must be insisted on by the unions in work done for independent employers. The unions have carried out this pledge for the past four or five years, and these wages have now come to be looked on as the standard rate. The unions which have made new agreements with the associated employers for the year and the approximate number of men, including those who work for nonassociation contractors, are:

Amalgamated Woodworkers' union,
3,000; Bricklayers and Masons, 19,000;
Carpenters, 13,000; Elevator Constructors' union,
2,000; Tilelayers' union, 600; House
Shoers and Movers' union, 1,200; Hoisting Engineers' union, 500; Electrical Workers' union, 5,000; Journeymen Stonemasons' union, 3,000; Marble Cutters' union, 2,500; Marble Polish-ers' union, 1,500; Plain and Ornamental Operative Plasterers' society, 5,000;
Modelers' union, 800; Hot and Cold Insulators' union, 500; Woodcarvers' union, 800.

The unions still under the arbitration plan which have not made agreements for the year through disputed points over working conditions are:

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, 22 locals, 19,000; Metal Lathers' union, 1,500; Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' union, 3,000;
Plumbers' union, 3,000; Composition
Roofers and Waterproofers' union, 3, 000; Cement Masons' union, 2,000.

The Brotherhood of Painters is not under the arbitration agreement, having struck in violation of the arbitration plan last spring. The union was ruled out, and, while the open shop was not officially declared against the painters, they are employed without any discrimination as to being union or nonunion men. The House-Smiths and Bridgemen's union was ruled out of the arbitration plan several years ago for repeated violations of the agreement, and the open shop was officially declared against the union. A number of other trades have never been under the arbitration plan.

It is estimated that there are altogether about 100,000 building mechanics in Greater New York, about 50, 000 of whom are now idle on account of the depression in the building trades.
A large number of laborers in trades connected with the building industry are also idle in the same proportion as to numbers as the skilled trades.

Advice to Union Men.
Never think yourself too wise to listen to advice or suggestions. Don't get puffed up and think that your ideas are the only ones that can bring success in the labor movement.
And above all things don't imitate the schoolboy and say you won't play because your opinions are not given preference over all others. Such conduct might leave the impression that you are not sincere or that you care more about yourself, the recognition of your opinions and the adoption of your ideas than you do about the success of your organization or the labor movement.—
Shoe Workers' Journal.

The Richest Union.

The wealthiest labor union in the world is the Amalgamated Engineers' society of Great Britain. Statements just published show that this organization possesses funds amounting to more than $2,500,000. Most of this is locked up in secure investments which bring in steady returns. Jan. 1, 1907, the membership of the union was 165, 188. The union pays sick, death and superannuation benefits.

How to Clean a Sewing Machine.
Sewing is not half as hard as some people find it if the sewing machine is kept in good running order. When the sewing machine works hard and heavily take the needle and shuttle out and give every joint and bearing a generous bath of gasoline. Of course there should not be a lighted lamp or fire of any kind in the room. Turn the wheels briskly for a few moments to enable the gasoline to penetrate every part and to loosen and wash away the old oil and grime; then clean it all away. When all the grime and oil have been removed oil with proper lubricating oil, running the machine for two or three minutes before inserting the needle. Now with a piece of chamber skin wipe away all superfluous oil.
It is a pleasure to sew on a machine kept in this manner.

Wisdom of Council's Deliberation.

Several members of the city council have expressed to representatives of the Advocate their complete satisfaction with the action at the meeting Monday night in declining to railroad through the proposed $85,000 water works bond ordinance without further time to ascertain the facts and figures deemed necessary for deliberation and intelligent consideration of the proposition. Among other things three important facts should be obtained and made known to the public as well as to the members of the council. These are:
1st. What are the exact figures as to the amount of the city's money that has been expended on the partial plant?
2d. What material, machinery and equipment has the city got today for the money?
3d. How much additional money is necessary to finish and fully equip a new complete plant?
If the public is made acquainted with these facts councilmen will feel much more justified in taking the necessary action, because the public will be more capable of judging whether their acts are wise and proper.
The mere statement of a councilman as to what would be done or what could be done with the $85,000 is by no means the extent of the information that is demanded by the public and does not contain the essential facts that should be known by the members of the council.

As one reviews the proceedings in Wednesday's Republican mass convention, held in the Music Hall, this city, there are interesting developments which show themselves. The convention was called for the avowed purpose of overruling the action of the Central committee on Monday.
Yet it will be seen that the convention actually endorsed the action of the committee. This looks like the Halsey-Hamilton organization had scored again. The convention was also called to endorse Secretary Taft.
But it actually endorsed the delegates chosen on Monday by the committee, which were uninstructed, and the convention was almost broken up by the Hughes sentiment without the endorsement of Taft. It would seem that the so-called Taft convention had become a Hughes convention with a sprinkling of Foraker sentiment, which became apparent when Charles W. Montgomery, in defining the action of the committee boldly announced that he supported Senator Foraker, and he was not overwhelmed in what was an avowed Taft convention. It would appear in this county Foraker and Hughes both have a following which the Taft people had not reckoned on and so the merry war proceeds.

Information Needed.

The Republicans of Licking county are making an awful mess of it and our esteemed cotemporary, the American-Tribune, is wondering just where it is at and where it is liable to drop. To those who understand the exact situation it is more than humorous.
The American-Tribune is one of the original Taft boomers and has been carrying the name of the distinguished secretary at its mast head as favoring his candidacy for president.
The Republican county central committee met in executive session Monday afternoon at the Hotel Warden and named eleven delegates to the state convention. It is well known and not denied that his committee is composed largely of anti-Taft men, yet in the interest of harmony, they claimed, named eleven Taft delegates.
This action did not meet with the approval of the rank and file of the party and so they got exceedingly busy and called a mass convention.
The American-Tribune in the meantime posted a flaming bulletin in its window announcing the fact that
"THIS PAPER IS NOT IN SYMPA-THY WITH THE MASS CONVEN-TION CALLED FOR TODAY. IT EN-DORSES THE ACTION OF THE COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF MONDAY, JANUARY 20."

At the mass convention Wednesday afternoon which was attended by prominent and distinguished members of the party from this city and all over Licking county, the fur was made to fly and a number of ugly charges were made. A resolution had been introduced and was about to be put on the present central committee from office. All present were enthusiastic when one man turned the tide and stopped the drastic measure which in all probability would have caused a complete disruption of the Republican party in this county.
As it was they adopted an amendment to the original resolution making it mandatory upon the central committee to issue notice for a primary within five days at which time delegates to the state convention will be elected.
At this time also a new committee will be named. If not complied with a provisional committee which was appointed will petition the state deputy supervisors of election for permission to hold the primaries.
Now the American-Tribune was not in favor of the mass convention and so announced in flaming letters. Notwithstanding this, however, the central committee has announced its intention of complying with the request of the mass meeting.
Will some one please tell us where our esteemed cotemporary is at? Information is needed.

Present Tightness of Money Will Soon Pass.

By Lord AVEBURY (Sir John Lubbock), Famous English Banker.

PANIC, which has led to WIDESPREAD HOARDING, is no doubt one of the greatest causes of the financial condition of America, but this is, of course, not due to a single or a simple cause. Matters in the world of finance, as in other worlds, are complex, interdependent and interwoven. The very PROSPERITY of America is one of the causes of the present pressure for money.

The panic seems to us in London to be UNREASONABLE. We have confidence in the great American financial institutions. PAN-ICS RARELY LAST LONG, AND AMERICAN INVESTORS HAVE NOW A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.
The commerce of America is SOUND AND PROSPEROUS.
It is true that the internal trade of the United States is now suffering from a scarcity of small change, as in 1893. American trade has grown enormously, and the nation is expanded and is expanding so fast that the EXISTING LAW IS UNSUITABLE to the present conditions. There is abundance of wealth in the country, both natural wealth, as yet undeveloped, and acquired and accumulative wealth.
I HAVE MYSELF NO FEARS AS TO A SATISFACTORY AND, I HOPE, A SPEEDY SETTLEMENT OF ITS TROUBLES. WHEN THOSE WHO ARE NOW HOARDING CURRENCY AND SPECIE REALIZE THAT THEIR FEARS ARE UNREASONABLE THEY WILL BRING OUT THEIR HOARDS, AND WE SHALL HAVE MONEY VERY EASY AGAIN.

COUNCIL'S ACTION
FOR MORE TIME
IS APPROVED

Editor Advocate:—After participating to the extent I did in the active work of the campaign of last fall and after furnishing the facts and figures I did in articles published in the Advocate showing the gross mismanagement and waste of the city's good money by the late Service Board under one man power methods in the construction of the city water works plant, I must express my surprise at the apparent effort being made now to have the Democratic council rush through that $85,000 bond ordinance without sufficient time to give the subject proper deliberation. Facts and figures were given that showed there had been a waste of $25,000 in the changing of the pumping station. Also that the Board had changed the original contract made by the former Board in a manner that plainly indicated a very bad showing for the city. That is to say, the original contract that provided for 24 miles of pipe at a cost of $265,000 had been so changed as to increase the cost and reduce the number of miles of pipe. The figures obtainable showed that the city's $300,000 had all been spent and only 19 or 20 miles of pipe had been laid. The statements made in the columns of the Advocate at that time and the showing of figures were never controverted by the late president of the board. For this reason and others the writer, in common with a large majority of the people, would like to have some official reports, giving such facts and figures as will make a proper showing of the present condition of the water works problem. How much of the city's money has been spent and what has the city gotten for the outlay.
This should be made known to the public before any ordinance is rushed through the council providing for another bond issue, and the council's action in taking more time for the proper consideration of the subject will be approved by the people.

FLOOD OF PETITIONS

Relating to Option Bill Pours In
on the Solons.

SOME FOR, OTHERS AGAINST IT

First and Last Homes of R. B. Hayes Want Monuments—New Municipal Code Proposed—Mr. Bryan to Be Invited to Address Legislature on Bank Bills.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—(Special)— Whether it is a sign that the tide is turning, or whether it merely means that those who oppose sumptuary legislation will also avail themselves of the right of petition, the legislature is just beginning to receive counter-petitions urging the defeat of the Rose county option bill.

Including the large number of petitions in favor of county option received the early part of this week, the total number of signatures in favor of the Rose bill ran something over 18, 000. To these petitions are signed the names of many women, especially of the women active in various temperance societies.

This week the counter petitions asking for the defeat of the Rose bill began to pour in. The aggregate of signers so far is not near so large as the aggregate number of petitioners for county option, but the signers are exclusively voters and taxpayers.
One of these protesting petitions alone had over 9,000 signatures of Senator Lamb's constituents in the Toledo district.

Senator Lamb is counted as one of the senators pledged to county option.
The protest from his district was a surprise to him, but it is not at all likely that it will swerve his position on the measure. Protesting petitions were received from other sections of the state, one from the Columbus district having over 2,000 signers. Labor organizations are also taking up the subject, the Trades and Labor assembly of Sandusky having set the example by adopting a resolution urging Senator Drake and Representative Winters of Erie county to work and vote against the Rose bill, on the ground that county option would throw thousands of men out of employment. This is somewhat embarrassing to Senator Drake, the chairman of the committee that probed Cincinnati, for Senator Drake is chairman of the senate committee on temperance and counted as a friend of the bill.

The right of petition is one of the constitutional prerogatives of the people. A member of the legislature would have no more right to throw any petition into the waste basket than he would have to walk up to the ballot box election day and throw out all the votes cast against him. Citizens who want to urge the legislature to pass the Rose bill need not hesitate to send their petitions to their senator or their representative in the house, no matter how either or both of them feel toward county option.
The heading in of a petition by a member of the legislature is no indication of his position.

What effect these petitions and protests will have on the general assembly is conjectural. At the utmost the total of both proponents and protestants will be but a small fraction of the whole population of Ohio. Similar floods of petitions were received at former sessions in favor of an anti-cigarette law. By the way, Mr. Minter of Harrison county introduced this session the anti-cigarette bill that was championed two years ago by Mr. Mc-Fadden of Fayette. Another big feature in the petition line this session was handed in by Senator Rathbun of Meigs, it being a scroll bearing 28, 429 signatures in favor of state aid for the blind, since the supreme court held the last blind pension act in this state to be unconstitutional. Petitions are like straw, showing the way public sentiment is blowing. With petitions for and against the Rose bill coming in with great numbers, even a weather prophet would be safe in predicting a tempest.

Representative John J. Lehmann of Sandusky county would have the state erect a monument to Rutherford B.
Hayes at Special Grove, the Hayes home, near Fremont. Hayes is the only man in the state's history to be elected three times to the office of governor, although there was an interim between his second and third terms, the third term being the year preceding the Tilden and Hayes presidential campaign of 1876. A similar resolution was offered last week by

Representative Crist of Delaware, for a Hayes monument at Delaware, where Rutherford B. Hayes was born Oct. 4, 1822. He died at Fremont Jan.
17, 1893. Now his birthplace and his last earthly home vie with each other for a suitable tribute from the state.

Five members of the house committee on cities, Paine of Lucas, Lersch of Lorain, Braun of Franklin, Shuler of Montgomery and Stockwell of Cuyahoga, all of them Republicans except Mr. Stockwell, having devoted considerable study to the municipal code that was enacted at a special session in 1904, formulated a bill which the chairman of the committee, Mr. Paine, introduced to give the state a new system of government for cities. It is not the complete federal plan which was in effect in Columbus and Cleveland prior to the enactment of what since has come to be called the Cox code, but it is partly on the same line.
For instance, the federal plan put the four chief divisions of city government under the mayor's control as a sort of municipal cabinet. This new code bill proposes to leave the city auditor and city solicitor as elective officials, the mayor to appoint a director of public service in lieu of the present elective board of three, and a director of public safety in lieu of the present appointive board of public safety. The bill provides for a board of control, consisting of the mayor, the director of public service and director of public safety, who must pass upon all contracts and expenditures in excess of $500. The bill is necessarily voluminous, too long to go into a detailed statement of its provisions. It might be called a cross between the federal plan and the present system.
It is proposed to make the new bill effective, if it becomes law at all, Jan.
1, 1910, so that the municipal officers elected last fall, and who entered upon the discharge of their duties the first of this year, will have served their full terms before the changes proposed in the form of municipal government take place.

Seeing that the Oklahoma bank law to guarantee deposits in state banks, fashioned after Mr. Bryan's suggestion for a national statute to guarantee deposits in national banks, is being regarded with popular approval, Senator Mather (R.) of Akron had to offer a contribution to Republican jealousy by introducing a bill to enact the Oklahoma statute in Ohio, although a bill to the same purpose was introduced in the senate last week by Mr. Huffman of Butler and two such bills were introduced in the house the week before, one by Mr.
Ackley of Noble and the other by Mr.
Judy of Darke—Huffman, Ackley and Judy being Democrats. That old maxim about imitation being the sincerest form of flattery holds good, even in a state legislature. Representative Eley of Ashland county offered a resolution in the house to invite Mr. Bryan to address the legislature Feb. 18 on the subject of guaranteeing bank deposits as proposed in these bills.

Attorneys for public service corporations took a fling at Senator Howe's franchise tax bill before the senate committee on taxation in his closing argument before the committee. Senator Howe declared that the steam railroads of Ohio last year were on the tax duplicate for about only 16 per cent of their value as reported by their own officials to the railway commissioners. No one refuted the statement when Senator Howe declared the the railroads in Ohio last year were on the duplicate for $143,000,000, while their actual property value as reported to the state railroad commission was $840,000,000. He pointed out that express companies now are assessed on their capital stock, while one of these companies last year paid a dividend of 200 per cent. He charged that the rolling stock, rails, ties, etc., of the street railway companies are on the duplicate at their actual value, while the constitution of Ohio in theory provides that they be assessed as a going concern on what they are worth. The committee reported favorably on the bill, and it is now on senate calendar for third reading.

When the house Republican caucus gathered itself together to select a sergeant-at-arms to succeed Richard Gilson, resigned, it had only four candidates to choose from. What made the winning hit for W. C. Smith, chairman of the Republican committee of Medina county, who was selected, was a remark by one of his back-ers, that he was neither better nor worse than the house had before and has been having for some time. The author of the remark was not required to explain how complimentary he meant to be, either to Mr. Smith or to his predecessors.

The expected opposition to Senator West's resolution to probe the charges made by Senator Meek about state examinations for teachers and other matters pertaining to the state school department did not materialize. It was adopted unanimously and sent to the house. Meanwhile all parties interested are keeping their ears to the ground and getting ready.

Spirited opposition failed to defeat in the house the first of the two child labor bills introduced by Mr. Reynolds of Cuyahoga at the instigation of the state inspector of workshops and factories. The vote was 78 to 20, which indicates that the twin bill will also go through when taken up. All amendments which would have weakened the bill were voted down, and the measure as passed by the house stands virtually as described in a former letter.

NEGLIGENCE OF FELLOW SERVANT NOT A DEFENSE

OHIO HOUSE PASSES BILL MAKING RAILROADS LIABLE FOR ANY INJURY.

Companies Have Benefitted by the Law Unjustly as it Now Stands. Railroad News.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—The House yesterday passed some very important legislation.

The bill of Mr. Metzgar of Cuyahoga "to qualify the liability of railroad companies for injuries to their employees," went through after long debate, but with no material changes in it.

This is the bill that abolishes the fellow-servant features of the present laws and makes a railroad company liable for any injury to its employees. The carelessness or negligence of any employee other than the one injured does not excuse or exempt the employing company from damages.

Pension for Erie Employees.

There is much talk among officials and employees of the Erie railroad concerning the establishment of a permanent pension system on the road. The representatives of the several divisions of the road will meet within a few weeks and discuss this measure. There are at present about 40,000 employees of the road and it is expected that an assessment of not less than 50 cents per month will be made and by this means the pension will be brought within reach of all. The company has agreed, it is said, to furnish $50,000 per year to the fund. There are at present 158 men on the road who are out of work owing to their age. The promoters of the pension system put forth this fact as one of their foremost arguments.

Goes to New Position.

C. C. Semple, for many years attached to the freight and claim department of the Queen and Crescent, goes to Washington on February 1, to assume a position in the traffic department of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Heavy Shipments of Freight.

A dispatch from Steubenville says: Large shipments of freight have gone west over the P. & M. line within the past three days. Coal shipments have been especially heavy, train loads after train loads of black diamonds proceeding westward. It is believed that if the present amount of freight handling continues there will be a call sent out for some of the suspended crews to come back to work.

May Be a Cut in Wages.

A rumor is current along the Pennsylvania lines that employees on the Pennsylvania lines east and west will soon have to suffer a cut in wages. The rumor has it that about 180,000 employees are to be affected. Decreased earnings of about $4,000,000 for this month is the cause assigned, along with the unwillingness of the stockholders to accept less than their usual dividend.

In Hamburg the policemen in the streets are instructed to watch the cars sharply, and if they find a car that carries a single passenger more than the number allowed by law the conductor is fined 3 marks.

A Fable of the Future.

In 1920 A. D. the Stingiest Man in Stringtown carted his household goods to the Depot and bought a ticket for Millionville, the Metropolis.

"Why are you moving to Millionville?" inquired a Citizen.

"To save postage," replied the Stingiest Man. Whereat the Citizen marveled mightily.

Now, be it known that the Stingiest Man in Stringtown was wise in his Day and Generation, for along back in 1907 A. D. or thereabout it became the Settled Habit of the Stringtown people to purchase Large Sheets of Little Stickers bearing portraits of G. Washington, B. Franklin, W. McKinley and other Late Illustrious Ones, which Specimens of Art they straightway stuck on envelopes and sent to a Large and Luring Mail Order Concern in Millionville. Wherefore it came about that the Seven Stores in Stringtown Shut up Shop, one after the other, until along in 1919 A. D. the Stingiest Man found it incumbent upon him to begin purchasing these Small Specimens of Art to present to the Maw of the Monster in Millionville, and the Aforesaid was Simply too Stingy to stand for the Same.

Newark Man Who Has Won a High Place in Traction World—What Home Paper Says.

(Eau Claire, Wis., Telegram.)

Mr. J. R. Harrigan of Newark, O., and his wife and daughter, are visiting in the city. Mr. Harrigan is an Eau Claire man who has gained high distinction in the traction world, in the construction and operation of electric railways. For some time past his headquarters have been at Buffalo, N. Y. It is needless to say he is greeted in Eau Claire by a host of old time friends. And the old Eau Claire when "Dick" was an operative and minstrel star of the first magnitude, and when he astonished transportation circles throughout the country by the idea of placing street cars of that day on runners for winter travel has not been forgotten. The latter achievement, like the feat of Columbus in making an egg stand on end, was an example of the solving of problems by direct common sense regardless of custom or technicalities. It is a far cry from the engine motive power street cars of other days to the modern electric train. That "Dick" knows the story by practical experience from mule to gas-electric is still a young man indicates in a way the progress in traction development in this line.

INSTRUCTORS IN CONSERVATORY GIVES A RECITAL

IN WHICH THEY ARE ASSISTED BY MISS KIBLER, OF NEWARK, PIANISTE.

Week of Prayer To Be Observed by Denison University—Judge Ben Lindsey to Speak in Granville.

Granville, Jan. 23.—On Wednesday one of the best and most appreciated recitals was given in Recital Hall by Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson Wilson, instructor of voice, Mr. Reginald L. Hidden, instructor of violin, and Miss Dorothy Kibler, accompanist. Mrs. Wilson is well known in all parts of Ohio and wins her audience at once by her sweet manner and lack of self-consciousness. She possesses a voice of exquisite purity of tone power, and very sympathetic. Mrs. Wilson's voice is a rich contralto, and throughout the recital she sang with great artistic finish. Her singing found great favor with the large audience. Mr. Hidden, a pupil of Sevcik, played all of his numbers with great artistic ability and especially well did he play the Spanish Dance. Mr. Hidden is a concert master of Columbus Symphony Orchestra. His work on scales and technique for the violin have been accepted by the leading editions in this country and Europe. Miss Kibler is a well known artist and her ability as an accompanist is very remarkable. Program:

The greatest student of the "Boy Problem" is to speak in Granville on Saturday next. Judge Lindsey of Denver, has given the bad boy of this country more of his time than almost any other man. That Granville is to hear this specialist of the boy soul is a matter of congratulation. The Judge addressed a packed house at the Auditorium in Newark, last winter and the people were delighted with his message, and no doubt Granville will be just as enthusiastic. The matter of the juvenile courts has taken a wonderful hold on the judicial authorities of this country, and large buildings in Chicago, Denver, San Francisco, New York and scores of other places are now being given over to the handling of the miscreant. There is no question but that he boy should not be herded in with other criminals when he is in the city jail. From them he learns much of his detriment. Take the boy out of his environment, show him that you believe in him. That is the thing that Lindsey has in hand. The "Kid's Judge" is the man who gives the "square deal" to the waif. Come and hear his story.

Today is the Day of Prayer in Colleges, and as announced by Dr. E. W. Hunt, president of Denison, the sermon was delivered in the chapel this morning by Rev. George B. Cutten, Ph.D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Columbus, and his sermon was listened to with marked interest by the large number of students in attendance. Dr. Cutten is the type of a man who appeals to students, a man of splendid personality and scholarly attainments. He received his college training at Acadia College, Nova College, and then went to Yale, where he took his theological course and studied for his Ph.D. degree. He is an athlete, young and well built. During his course he was a member of the Yale foot ball team. Since leaving college he has held important pastorates in Connecticut and at Corning, N. Y., and has recently come to Columbus. He spoke in chapel this morning at 10 o'clock and this evening he will speak again at the church at 7 o'clock.

The Advocate's Evening Story

WAS IT A DREAM?

This story presents one of those psychological puzzles that some people sneer at as fraudulent, some take great interest in, and to which most people are indifferent.

Michael Keenan, one of the most desperate of burglars, having just been discharged from state prison after serving a ten years' term, was prowling at midnight on the outskirts of a town looking for an opportunity to replenish his exchequer. He surveyed several houses from their back yards to make a selection for burglary when he espied a figure walking in rear of a house that fronted on another street. Keenan laid low and watched. Was the person bent on the same purpose as himself? He soon discovered that the figure was a man and was walking to and fro, keeping an eye on an upper rear window of the house he was behind. Keenan found a loose fence picket and with it stealthily approached the figure. There was a thud, a murdered man, rifled pockets and a body thrown in an open bunker of the house the figure had been watching. Then Keenan went off with a gold watch and chain and a hundred dollars in money.

Not long after the murder Keenan, who was in a distant city, saw it stated in a newspaper that Hugh Gregory, the owner of the house in the bunker of which the body had been found, had been arrested for murder. The article also stated that Gregory was past fifty, the murdered man under twenty-five. The young man was Everett Sturges and a visitor at Gregory's house. The chain of evidence connecting Gregory with the murder was not given. Those six fellows—the police—were too smart to give anything away before the proper time.

It was this matter of the police that interested Keenan. They had once proved him guilty of a crime he had not committed, and he was curious to know how their ingenuity would work in proving a man guilty of a crime that he (Keenan) had committed. So he laid low, living on the proceeds of the murder and taking no great risks to get more. He was absorbed in what was called the Sturges murder case. Some of the papers endeavored to find in Gregory a victim in whom to hide their stupidity. When Keenan read this he chuckled. He believed that was their object.

Then came reports of the trial, which the real murderer read eagerly. So convincing were the arguments of the prosecuting attorney that Keenan almost believed himself innocent of the murder and Gregory the guilty one. But when the prisoner's counsel took up the case he could see no possible chance of the prisoner's conviction. One thing puzzled him—all the reports stated that Gregory looked and acted like a guilty man.

ENTHUSIASTIC

Is Manager Ransick of Springfield Over the Outlook—Has Fine Collection in Sight.

Springfield, Jan. 23.—Edward J. Ransick of Cincinnati is meeting with great encouragement in his efforts to get a baseball company organized for the proposed Ohio State league. He believes that there will be no difficulty in placing a team and has already a fine collection of young ball players in sight. He asks for very little financial help locally.

It is now proposed to use the old Central league park. Mr. Ransick has studied carefully attendance figures for the last three years and is convinced that Springfield is a good ball town. The local fans are greatly enthused over the prospects for a team.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL.

Following is the schedule of the interclass basketball games which will be played by Denison at Granville this season:

January 27, Seniors vs. Academy.
January 31, Juniors vs. Sophomores.
January 31, Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Feb. 3, Juniors vs. Academy.
Feb. 19, Sophomores vs. Academy.
Feb. 22, Seniors vs. Juniors.
Feb. 22, Sophomores vs. Freshmen.
March 2, Seniors vs. Sophomores.
March 4, Freshmen vs. Academy.
March 11, Juniors vs. Freshmen.
Single admissions to these games will be 10 cents; season tickets, 60 cents. There will be no double games as heretofore.

The next statement Keenan read filled him with wonder. Gregory had been convicted, and soon after his conviction he had confessed. Sturges had been a suitor for his daughter's hand. Gregory had bitterly opposed him. On the night of the murder Gregory had gone to bed, to awake at midnight with an unexplainable conviction that Sturges was prowling near the house for the purpose of eloping with the girl. Gregory for some time thought he had dreamed that he saw Sturges walking without, but so strong was the conviction that this was really so that he got up, dressed, went downstairs, took a stout cane from the hall, went out, found Sturges and struck him a blow from which he sank down. He had no recollection of putting the body in the bunker and supposed Sturges must have dragged himself there and died.

When Keenan read this confession he gave a long low whistle of astonishment. Then he began to wonder if he had not been dreaming himself and Gregory had not, after all, killed Sturges. However, he still had Sturges' watch, which he had not dared to sell or pawn, and it was convincing proof that he was the murderer. He puzzled for weeks what he had better do. He had no idea of giving himself up to save an innocent man, but he hated the police and wanted to show up what he considered their inefficiency.

One night Keenan cracked a crib and made a fine haul of ready cash. Then he laid a plan. He bought a second class ticket on a steamer bound for Chile. Just before the steamer sailed he expressed a small package to the judge before whom Gregory was tried and at the same time mailed the judge a letter. In half an hour after doing this he was out on the Atlantic ocean. This is the letter he wrote the judge:

Dear Judge:—The police is a lot of blokes. I got out from behind the bars one day, and that nite was lookin' for a crib to crack. I spotted a man watchin'. I killed him and took the swag and dragged him into the bunker. I'm givin' you by express the watch of the man I killed. The man convicted must be a dreamer. I'm off for furin' parts. Yours
MIKE KEENAN.

The watch was identified as having belonged to Sturges, and Keenan, in name, was traced to the prison from which he had been discharged. Gregory was finally set at liberty, and his family united in trying to convince him he had dreamed that he killed Sturges. This he will not admit, though he concedes that some mental process akin to dreams may have made him think that he had committed murder.

While during the trial Gregory's antagonism to his daughter's wooer came out, it did not come out till after the receipt of Keenan's communication that an arrangement had been made between the lovers to elope on the night of the murder. The girl concealed the fact to shield her father.

ORGANIZATION

OF NEW OHIO LEAGUE WILL SOON BE COMPLETED, SAYS PRESIDENT QUINN.

Great Interest Is Being Manifested by Clubs of Proposed Circuit—A Little Dope for the Fans.

Steps will be taken at once by President Bobby Quinn of the Ohio League to complete the organization and a meeting will probably be called for Monday. He states that he has already received requests from a number of places that are desirous of entering the new league and looks for the organization to be completed within the next week.

Disposition of the Springfield franchise leaves two cities to be looked after and Hamilton is clamoring for admittance and the men who are backing a team in that city report that they are meeting with all kinds of encouragement and anticipate no trouble whatever in financing the project.

While it is true that Richmond holds a franchise in the Indian-Ohio league it is quite probable that, that berth will be dropped and a place taken in the Ohio State as soon as the matter of protection is understood. Richmond fans want to move up in fast company and it is claimed that a berth in the Ohio league will be a good paying proposition. It is a good ball town and the four old clubs would like to see that city a member of the new organization.

With Newark, Lancaster, Mansfield, Marion, Lima, Springfield, Hamilton and Richmond the league would be a strong one and the mileage saved over that of the old O. and P. circuit would be considerable and would amount to a snug little sum. All of the cities are good ball towns and there is no doubt but what the game would be liberally patronized.

It is quite likely that a meeting of the directors of the local club will be held shortly at which time the matter of taking in two new cities into the league will be thoroughly discussed and arrangements made to attend the meeting at Columbus. After all arrangements are completed for the circuit the local people will get busy and push everything forward for a rapid completion of improvements at the park and a getting together of the team at an early date ready to go into spring practice.

At Lima Tuesday night the committee appointed by the local baseball organization met in the office of W. T. Newman and had a very enthusiastic meeting. All necessary steps were taken to enter the new league and when the Columbus meeting is held Lima will be there with mazzuma which is required as a guarantee of good faith.

Secretary Farrell's latest bulletin puts to route the idea that Richmond will have to remain in the Indiana-Ohio league. It shows that the territory in Richmond, Springfield, Lima and Hamilton has been reserved for the Ohio State. The only way in which Richmond can stay out of the league and remain with the Indian league is to make that organization an outlaw league.

TROUBLE

Stands in the Way for the O. P. Circuit—Akron After Bill Clarke, of Toledo.

The remnants of the old O. and P. managed by the Youngstown-Akron combination are having troubles of their own. They are making desperate efforts to get Erie from the Interstate, and Secretary Farrell has interested himself in their behalf and written to all the Interstate magnates, requesting them to allow Erie to withdraw from their organization by the payment of $250 to each city. He states that they can compel Erie to pay $250 for its release, but asks that they be mild. It is not likely that the magnates will accede to the secretary's request and will demand their full pound of flesh.

The Sharon people are going right along preparing for the coming season. The fans are threatening all kinds of trouble if they are not given a good team. They state that they are becoming tired of patronizing a ball under team, and will withdraw their patronage if the management does not furnish better class of ball. Secretary Clapper has several trades in view and says he will make an effort to have a first division team in the field. John Doyle, one of the best known baseball men in the country, and for years connected with the interests of the Sharon team, has withdrawn from that organization. He is very well known in this city, having frequently accompanied the team here.

A hot story is being sent out from Akron to the effect that Bill Clarke, captain and fire baseman of Bill Armour's Toledo American Association team last season, is a candidate for the Akron management, and stands the best show of landing the place.

The report may be right, and we trust for Akron's sake that it is, but it will have to be taken with a grain of conscience. Bill Admour is not letting any men of Bill Clarke's caliber get away if he can help it. Clarke is not a free agent, and there was some talk of him going to the outlaws, but it was only talk. Bill is wintering at his home in Baltimore and is keeping mum. When the proper time comes it is more than likely that he will be right back in line with the Mud Hens, as the Toledo team without Bill Clarke giving orders, would seem to be out of place.

How to Be Prepared For Guests.
Every housekeeper should have an emergency shelf. On the day when company unexpectedly arrives and you have only a pick up meal ready it is convenient to go to the shelf for a can of ported chicken, oysters or codfish, canned beans, etc. Every can should be kept up as soon as possible.

How to Freshen Up Velvet.
To renovate velvet dip a brush in damp sand, rub lightly and the soiled collar or cuff will look like new. It is a cleaning process, too, for the slight moisture removes dust and the brisk action of the sand friction gives new life to the nap which has been worn down.

PICTURE SHOWS CLOSED SUNDAY BY MAYOR BOND

Columbus, Jan. 23.—Another step was taken by Mayor Bond yesterday for the enforcement of the Sunday closing laws. He gave orders to Chief of Police O'Connor to notify the proprietors of all moving picture shows to close their places of business at midnight Saturday and keep closed over Sunday.

Mayor Bond stated that this step was taken after numerous complaints had been received from the business men, who claimed the moving picture shows were run in direct violation of the law; that other theatres were closed on Sunday; that many of the moving picture houses did not have facilities for protection and escape in case of fire; that crowds congregated in front of them Sundays and that the sanitary conditions of many were reported bad.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO OUR READERS

A Warning Against the Remarkable Prevalence of Rheumatism in This Section, and the Best Way to Cure It.

The number of rheumatism cases in this section has become a matter of serious concern. As a result there have been numerous questions asked as to the surest, quickest and most effective way of stamping it out.

As a result of our effort to advise rheumatic sufferers impartially as to how to cure the disease permanently, we have felt compelled to advise that treatment which contains no alcohol, opium or narcotics of any kind, the very same treatment which came into such prominence some time ago, because of its remarkable results, the Fess Rheumatism Cure.

Out of one thousand cases which we noted, every single one was pronounced cured. This statement is not in the least exaggerated, as every case has been verified by us, and can be absolutely relied upon.

We recommend that all our readers, by reason of our careful investigation, use this remedy.

Fess Rheumatism Cure gives quick relief, and several of the cases mentioned above were cured in three days, some in a week and in one case, that of Mr. Enos Kingsley, the well-known ladies' tailor of Flint, Michigan, a cure resulted in 24 hours after months of suffering. The pains and stiffness of the joints and muscles disappear. "Fess" is also highly effective in gout, lumbago and kidney troubles.

Fess is personally recommended and sold in Newark by J. W. Collins & Son at $1.00 a bottle, or sent express prepaid on receipt of price by the Fess Remedy Co., Flint, Mich.

BAPTIST REVIVAL

WOUNDS

THAT NEVER WILL BE ENTIRELY HEALED SUFFERED BY BOTH FACTIONS.

OF LICKING REPUBLICANS

Committee is Forced by Mass Meeting to Bow to Its Wishes and Call Primary.

The big mass meeting is over, but there is a soreness in the Republican ranks of Licking county which will never be entirely healed over.

As stated in Wednesday's Advocate, Mr. Arthur Wyeth of Johnstown, was made chairman of the meeting, and Joseph Pugh of this city secretary. The hall was comfortably filled as word had been passed out that a lively scrap would likely be precipitated.

It was a representative gathering of Republicans, the majority of whom were of course from this city, but the outlying districts were well represented. Many of the old wheel horses were there and they all had blood in their eyes and were out for scalps.

Chairman Wyeth, who is also a member of the county central committee, asked the pleasure of the convention and Attorney F. M. Black introduced a resolution commending the administration of President Roosevelt. It carried with a hurrah, although many failed to vote on it, and remained silent. Attorney L. C. Russell next introduced a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Col. M. M. Gillett of this city, for state treasurer. This went through with a whirl and then everyone settled back waiting for the first gun to be fired. They were not kept in suspense for a great while for Attorney Black started the fireworks by stating that the convention had been called for the purpose of giving legality to a delegation from Licking county which would be sent to the state convention. He said a question had been raised as to the action of the central committee in naming eleven delegates in executive session Monday and suggested the selection of a provisional committee that would carry out the Republican state committee's wishes. He moved that such committee, which should be appointed by the chair, make a demand on the board of elections for permission to hold a primary.

The motion carried and the chair appointed from a list which had already been prepared, the following gentlemen as a provisional committee of ten: N. C. Sherburne, F. L. Beggs, E. W. Murphy, F. M. Black, J. D. Oldham, L. C. Russell, B. Hoover, John Wilson, D. C. McShane and W. C. Hall.

Judge Walter A. Irwin next took the floor and in an impassioned speech declared that by the central committee's action in naming delegates a conflict would be the result, that they had not only disobeyed the call of the state committee, but had opposed the wishes of a large majority of the party, and therefore, he it resolved by the Republicans of Licking county that the offices of the central committee be declared vacant.

The bombshell had been exploded and pandemonium was out loose. Everybody tried to get the floor, but Judge Irwin had not given it up and was allowed to proceed in defense of the resolution which he had introduced. He said in substance that they were ready to acknowledge that they were revolutionists and were about to do something that had never before been attempted in the history of the Republican party in Licking county. He said that Monday's action on the part of the county central committee was a low, dirty and corrupt method of doing business. "We must get rid of this bold usurping central committee," cried the judge. "The idea of so selecting delegates never originated in the brain of any Licking county man," he continued, and at that a number were on their feet asking the judge to name the man who had engineered the deal.

Judge Irwin declined to do so and then Chairman Charles Montgomery took the floor in defense of the committee's action, prefacing his remarks with the declaration that he was not a Taft man and never had been. He said that at the meeting which had named Taft delegates he was compelled to swallow a bitter pill for the sake of party harmony, and that the committee had only done what they thought just and wise and that it was also done to save the needless expense of a primary.

"You may remove us if you will," said Mr. Montgomery, "but the secretary of state will continue to recognize us as the properly constituted committee. We are willing to concede to this body, however, the right to demand a primary."

Judge Irwin again got the floor and said the action Monday was without a precedent. "How do you know who we want for delegates?" he shouted. "I am for Hughes, and I can get at least two hundred votes in this county for him. What right have you to say who shall represent me?"

At this juncture Attorney A. A. Stasel walked into the hall. He asked that the resolution again be read and after it had been done addressed the convention asking that all use moderation and not do anything in the heat of passion which they might afterwards have cause to regret.

"You are taking your first step to the party's defeat if you pass this resolution. We are nearly all from Newark at this meeting, and we are attempting to destroy the Republican organization of Licking county. Let us get together and demand of the central committee that they reconsider their action and name a new set of delegates."

Attorney Stasel then offered an amendment to Judge Irwin's resolution as follows:

"That this body memorialize the county central committee, ask it to reconsider the action of Monday, and pass a resolution to, at a fixed time, hold caucuses and a convention or a primary election and choose delegates to the state convention."

It was seconded and several gentlemen endorsed the amendment of Mr. Stasel in short speeches.

After Chairman Montgomery had agreed to abide by the amendment it was carried and the provisional committee which had been named by the convention reported and stated that they had agreed to recommend the names of the eleven gentlemen for delegates who had been named by the central committee at the Monday meeting.

One man turned the tide and saved the day. Mr. Stasel arrived just in the nick of time to save the committee from being ousted. Had it not been for him there might have been "some doings." During the course of the debate a number of things were said that would not look well in print. It may be a hard pill for the committee to swallow, but they have agreed to abide by the decision of the mass convention and will ask for a primary.

The American Tribune will also have to take a bitter dose as the paper had repudiated the convention's action in an advance bulletin.

AFFIDAVITS

WILL BE FILED

CHARGING THREE EXPELLED MEMBERS OF SOCIETY WITH SLANDER.

It is Said They Aspired to be Officers and Circulated Reports Out of Pure Revenge.

Probably today or tomorrow, three well known citizens of the foreign colony will probably have affidavits filed against them by the officers of the Dacia Trajana, the Romanian Benevolent society, from which they have been expelled. The men will be charged with slander and several other things, according to the story told an Advocate reporter by one of the members this afternoon.

It seems as though the men at one time officers of the order, used every means in their power to break up the society. The slander used by them, said the member, did accomplish some injury to the society. Robbers, and other such names were used, and they intended taking steps to silence the tongues of these men.

The member referred them to an attorney who was to prepare an affidavit.

CHEERS

ly there was a subsidence of uproar, and the crowd poured out into the rotunda.

In the course of the discussion, 14 speakers appeared against the bill, and five in its favor. Almost every walk of life was represented in this array of rhetorical talent and a great many localities.

Quite a sensation was created when the opponents of the bill put forward as their first speaker Rev. William A. Wasson, rector of Grace Episcopal church of Riverhead, L. I. His presence was irritating to the clergymen who spoke for the bill. He was so sharply criticised by Rev. Baker that Senator P. W. Ward of Cleveland, for the committee, requested him to desist and confine himself to the bill.

Rev. Wasson took a strong stand that prohibition did not produce temperance.

Judge John Schwaab of Cincinnati, came forward as the representative of the German-American Alliance, which was organized in 42 states and had a membership of 2,000,000.

He hurled a mass of statistics at the committee. They were prepared by Herman F. Celiarius, secretary of the Ohio Association of Building Associations. These showed that the per capita savings in Ohio were $29.37, while in Kansas they were $4.79.

Recently Rev. Baker said that the Kansas savings were $100, as against Ohio's $16.

"It is higher in Ohio than in any other state, and yet the people here drink whiskey, wine and beer," he said.

Then he produced the figures that caused the row. He showed that in prohibition Portland there were 1690 arrests for drunkenness, with a population of 51,000. In Dayton, with 38,000, there were only 2022, and there the saloons were open.

Several other speakers were heard in opposition to the bill.

President Welsh, of Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, was the first speaker for the bill and he began by referring to the attitude of the churches in Ohio. This proved to be the foundation for the cutting remark that "the liquor people of the state had to send out of it to get a clergyman to plead their cause, whose voice is belated, however, because the principle had been adopted in Ohio."

The opposition had no day in the senate yesterday in the way of the presentation of petitions relative to the passage of the bill. For more than an hour the bill lasted, and while there were not so many petitions remonstrating as there were favoring, still the numerical strength, so far as the signatures were concerned, far surpassed those requesting the passage. Hamilton county and Cincinnati carried off the banner with a petition presented by Senator John W. Harbo, with a total of 17,051. This was followed by Senator Sylvester Laub of Toledo, who sent one containing 9428 names up to the clerk. Senator William H. Mark of Dayton, presented another, signed by 4125 citizens of Dayton and Montgomery, which was slightly larger than that sent in by Senator

POLICE SYSTEM

OF NEWARK SUBJECT OF INVESTIGATION BY MR. VERNON OFFICERS.

And They Will Recommend Its Adoption in Knox County Capital. Police News.

Messrs. Harry Wootton, Ralph Vall and Robert Cole, members of the police committee of the Mt. Vernon city council, and Chief of Police Dermody of that city, were in Newark Wednesday, investigating the police system in vogue here. The entire system was thoroughly explained to them by Police Chief Sheridan, and the committee will probably recommend that a similar plan for police work be established there. The system adopted here has proved entirely satisfactory and is one of the best in the state.

George Fisher, employed by Henry Krupp in his saloon and hotel, South Second street, entered a room in the building Wednesday and claims he found a man named George Buckingham tampering with the cash register. He immediately filed an affidavit in the mayor's court against Buckingham. Officers Carroll and Callan arrested the man at 1:30 and locked him up. He was given a hearing in police court this morning.

The case of George Buckingham, charged with an attempt to open the cash register at Henry Krupp's saloon, has been continued until Friday morning.

One lonely drunk was given the usual fine this morning when up in police court.

The majority of Newark people who have become used to seeing the daily parade to police court when it was held in the city building, forget it has been changed to the city prison and many cases have been delayed by witnesses and others interested in the cases on trial, going to the old police court room. The regular morning session, if there are any cases to be tried, is held at 9:15 and every one interested in the cases are supposed to be on hand at that time.

George H. Cass, a resident of Newark was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn to by E. Propper, proprietor of the New York Cash store, who claims Cass owed him money and he would not pay. Mr. Cass secured bail and was released.

This afternoon he appeared before Mayor Atherton and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Propper, charging him with assault.

Chief Sheridan is again on duty after several days absence on account of sickness.
